The hearts were pasted all over the walls of the Academy. Fifty demonstrators from the Rev. Hosea Williams, Jr., marchers opened two new offices in the city this week. They have driven back and forth along the highway splashing mud on the marchers, but they have continued to pour down their full strength.

The county was ordered to assist the SCLC with its fields and tobacco. Governor George C. Wallace, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.

Negro Candidates Plan Races in Many Counties
Four Start Try For Legislature

The SCLC workers came back and said, "He doesn't seem to want to talk about it anymore."

BY JOHN KLEIN

Mayor Grant stepped up at a meeting of civil rights groups Wednesday and said that you have your point about the black man. He's not doing that, or the mailman. The SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main, the SCLC has been the center of city hall in Waycross, Bedevile, and Friday, on Federal and Main.

Ryan deGraffenreid, a candidate for the governor's race, is one of the most prominent figures in the campaign for the state legislature.

Gray's district, a new one created by a state senator, plans to move from his rented home by the landlady. Three days of rain had put a moat around the church and turned many doors into small screens.

In the post office, the audience was still there when the door opened and everyone introduced himself to the audience. We just can't let other people do the right thing for us.
Editorial Opinion

Winners All

The federal court decision that women must be allowed to serve on juries in Montgomery County is a victory not for women or for all juries, but for all those who respect the procedures of the courts. It is a victory for those who have stood up for the rights of others.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 was not an act of charity. It was a constitutional act, an act of democracy. It was an act of justice. It was an act of enlightenment.

Legal battles are never easy. They bring great change from normal practices, and at times, great suffering. But the sacrifices of those who have fought for the rights of others have been well worth it.

The same Editor

June 22, 1971

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I have been a subscriber for less than a year, but I am very pleased with the service offered by the Southern Courier.

The quality of the reporting in The Southern Courier is excellent. The news reporting in The Southern Courier is as good as any other newspaper in the country.

I have been a subscriber for less than a year, but I am very pleased with the service offered by the Southern Courier. The quality of the reporting in The Southern Courier is excellent. The news reporting in The Southern Courier is as good as any other newspaper in the country.

The same Editor

June 22, 1971

Jury Board in Macon Co.

Walks Out

By Mary Wells

The jury board in Macon County, Ala., walked out of a meeting Tuesday night after a heated discussion of plans for a new courthouse.

The delegates had been summoned to discuss a plan to move the county courthouse from Center Point, with stops along the way, to the community of Plainview, Ala., near Montgomery. The courthouse is now located in the center of the county, which is about 60 miles from Montgomery.

The delegates had been summoned to discuss a plan to move the county courthouse from Center Point, with stops along the way, to the community of Plainview, Ala., near Montgomery. The courthouse is now located in the center of the county, which is about 60 miles from Montgomery.

The same Editor

June 22, 1971

Invitation Upsets Mobile Church

By David R. Underhill

m The social order must be made over all his life in service." Bishop William H. Smith of A.M.E. Zion Church told a large, varied congregation at a special service held Friday night to be at work.

"I have seen people in positions of power and influence who can do great things if they will only use their power in a positive way," the bishop said. "But I have also seen people who hold great power and use it for their own benefit."}

The same Editor

June 22, 1971

Editorial Opinion

CREATIVE COMMUNITY CAN SAVE AME Bishop

"There must be one funeral right now, the innocent bystander's funeral. He is a hero to the people," said Mason. "It is the kind of thinking that leads straight to war, and it is the kind of thinking that leads straight to destruction.

Leaders succeeded, but "there were many who were not satisfied," Mason said. "They wanted to continue the fight, and they wanted to continue the struggle.

And when a mistake of principle is made, the damage is done. The damage is done to the church and to society at large."
Inside a Television Studio

Photographs by James H. Peppler
One County Takes a Look at How It Picks Juries

Jury System on Trial in Calhoun County

By ALAN BURGESS

ANiston—The people of Aniston would tremble in their shoes and shiver in their boots if they were in the hands of the judges of law and justice. But the judges of law and justice are not in the hands of the people of Aniston. The system of selecting juries in Calhoun County is a source of real concern to the residents of the county.

Juries in Calhoun County are selected by lottery, which is a system that works well in theory but can result in a skewed selection of jury members. The system is based on the belief that everyone should have an equal chance to serve on a jury, but in practice it can lead to a jury that is not representative of the community.

In recent years, there have been concerns about the fairness of the jury system in Calhoun County. Some residents have complained that certain groups of people, such as African Americans, are underrepresented on juries. Others have expressed concern about the lack of diversity in the jury pool.

One of the main problems with the jury system in Calhoun County is the lack of a method to ensure that jury members are representative of the community. The current system relies on a lottery system, which can result in a jury that is not representative of the population.

Another concern with the jury system in Calhoun County is the lack of transparency in the selection process. The process of selecting jury members is not well-documented, and there is little oversight to ensure that the selection is fair and impartial.

To address these concerns, some residents have called for changes to the jury system in Calhoun County. Some have suggested implementing a system that would allow for a more deliberate selection of jury members, such as a method that would take into account the diversity of the community.

In conclusion, the jury system in Calhoun County is a source of concern for many residents of the county. The system is based on the belief that everyone should have an equal chance to serve on a jury, but in practice it can lead to a jury that is not representative of the community. There is a need for changes to the jury system to ensure that it is fair and impartial, and that it truly reflects the diversity of the community.
Two Young Men With Big Plans

Auburn

Greenboro

SCLC Advises Workers, Start Politics in Precinct

BY RICHARD J. MARGIN

ITNACOMA—Members of SCLC from the Black Belt address state-wide sit-ins that were called by the SCLC leaders from Alabama to try to prevent violence in the South. This is the result of a series of meetings that have taken place in the last few days. The SCLC leaders from Alabama to try to prevent violence in the South.

Eufaula (Continued from Page One)

our message to young people is: 'you must not do anything that will change the course of the nation.' We are asking you to look into yourselves, to look at what you have done and to begin to plan for the future. We are saying that this is a moment of truth and we must act. We cannot afford to let this moment pass without taking action.

By the time this issue goes to press, we will have completed our study of the situation in Eufaula. We have found that the situation is extremely serious and that there is a great need for action. We urge everyone to take action immediately to prevent further violence.

We have also asked young people to consider joining the SCLC movement. We believe that this is the only way to prevent further violence and to see that justice is done. We urge everyone to join the SCLC movement and to work for change in our society.

We are asking everyone to look at their own lives and to consider what they can do to make a difference. We are asking everyone to join forces with others who are working for change and to stand together in solidarity.

We are asking everyone to consider the effects of our actions on others. We are asking everyone to think about the impact of our actions on others and to consider the consequences.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for action now. We are asking everyone to consider the urgency of the situation and to act immediately to prevent further violence.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for leadership. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed leadership to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for community. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, vibrant communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for education. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, well-educated leaders to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for justice. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, just laws to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for unity. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, united communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for peace. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, peaceful communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for freedom. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, free communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for action. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed action to prevent further violence.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for leadership. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed leadership to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for community. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, vibrant communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for education. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, well-educated leaders to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for justice. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, just laws to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for unity. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, united communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for peace. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, peaceful communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for freedom. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, free communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for action. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed action to prevent further violence.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for leadership. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed leadership to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for community. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, vibrant communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for education. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, well-educated leaders to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for justice. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, just laws to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for unity. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, united communities to support each other.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for peace. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, peaceful communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for freedom. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, free communities to guide us through this difficult time.

We are asking everyone to consider the need for action. We are asking everyone to consider the need for strong, committed action to prevent further violence.
Veteran Tuskegee Rights Leader Answers Back Militant Critics

BY MARY ELLEN GALE

TUSKEGEE — "Our way is not the only way," said Charles C. Gomillion, president of the Tuskegee Civic Action

Committee (TCA). "We have been able to accomplish much of our goals."

Gomillion told a small group of Tuskegeeans that a two-day meeting at the city's convention center was

"to define the roles of TCA and its members in the continuing struggle for civil rights in Tuskegee." The meeting, scheduled to begin November 23, was postponed because of weather conditions.

The meeting, which was attended by about 25 people, included discussion of the TCA's role in the civil rights movement, the need for TCA members to be aware of the activities of other civil rights organizations, and the need for TCA to set goals for itself.

One of the major issues discussed was the role of the TCA in the upcoming presidential election. Gomillion said that the TCA would be supporting the Democratic ticket, and that the TCA would be focusing on voter registration and educational programs.

Gomillion also said that the TCA would be working with other organizations, such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), to ensure that the rights of all citizens are protected.

The meeting also included a presentation by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who spoke about the importance of nonviolent resistance and the need for unity among all people.

The meeting ended with a roundtable discussion, during which participants shared their thoughts and ideas about the future of the TCA and the civil rights movement.

Mobile Panel Discusses Problems

BY JOHN DUGL

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica—A panel of leaders in the civil rights movement met here on Tuesday to discuss the problems facing the black community in Jamaica.

The panelists, who included Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Dr. Ralph Abernathy, and Rev. Martin Luther King III, said that the problems facing the black community in Jamaica were similar to those facing the black community in the United States.

They said that the problems included poverty, unemployment, and lack of opportunities for education and advancement.

The panelists also said that the black community in Jamaica needed to work together to solve these problems.

They said that the black community in Jamaica needed to work together to solve these problems.