In the "Magic City," a group of people staged a demonstration near the County courthouse. 35 people, mainly young people and college students, voted on their way to the polls. The demonstration—advertised as "We Are the Power, Our Power"—was formed to protest the election of the new governor, George C. Wallace. The demonstrators were white high school students and the county's Negro leaders, and they took up the names of the black panther party's candidates to this election. As a result, the NDPA candidates had to be, and did be, taken into consideration. In the end, none of the NDPA candidates were elected to the office of the governor. Medical Care Begins For Lowndes People

HATTIESBURG, Ala. — Lowndes County in Mississippi has opened its first free medical clinic to a group of 30 residents from the county's Lower Bankhead Community.

The clinic is run by the Lower Bankhead Community Health Center, which was established in 1969. The center provides primary care, dental care, and mental health services to residents of Lowndes County.

Lowndes County is one of the poorest counties in the United States, with a poverty rate of 34.7%. The county has a large number of people who are uninsured or underinsured and have limited access to health care.

The clinic is located at the Lower Bankhead Community Center, which is also the home of the center's administrative offices. The center has a staff of five, including a physician, a nurse practitioner, and three support staff.

The clinic's opening was met with enthusiasm by the community, who have been waiting for such a service for a long time.

The clinic is open from Monday to Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and is staffed by volunteers who are trained in basic first aid and CPR.

The clinic accepts patients from all ages and provides care for a variety of conditions, including colds, flu, asthma, diabetes, and hypertension.

The clinic is a part of the Primary Care Association of Mississippi, which is a network of community health centers throughout the state.

Medical care is a basic human right, and the opening of this clinic is a step towards ensuring that all people have access to affordable and quality health care.
Football Is for Everybody

In nearly every town in the land this month, high school and college football teams are playing their traditional "big" games. It might be the Carver-Booker T. Washington game, played in Montgomery, Ala., this weekend, or it might be the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

And football doesn't just involve the players. There are coaches, managers, cheerleaders, pom-pon girls, majorettes, band directors, drum majors, and marching musicians. Sometimes, there's hardly anyone left to watch the game.

D.C. Wolfe's First Homecoming

Something New for Shorter

BY MAURY HERMAN

SHORTER, Ala.—Light rains and overcast skies did nothing to discourage several hundred exuberant fans who cheered Deborah Cannon Wolfe High School to victory in the first football homecoming in the school's history.

The Oct. 24 Classic—the second "home" game in D.C. Wolfe's two years of competition—was played on a makeshift field at Shorter Elementary School.

A pep rally and a parade preceded the game with North Highland High School of Prattville. Shorter has probably never seen anything like the 20-car parade that went across Highways 80 and down a farm road, from D.C. Wolfe to Shorter Elementary.

There were no stands at the improvised football field, so the crowd—eager to follow each play—kept inching closer and closer to the action. Then the fans would retreat in disorder when a play came toward the sideline.

Halftime entertainment was provided by the band from the Alabama Industrial School at Mt. Meigs.

D.C. Wolfe's principal, M. H. Lee, then introduced "Miss Deborah Cannon Wolfe"—Miss Elaine Saunders—and her two attendants, Miss Loretta McWhorten and Miss Christine Sullins.

That night, the team's 13-6 victory was celebrated at the homecoming dance.
TUSCALOOSA, Ala.—"It's rough for my family down there," said Judge City Judge Sam R. Carter, the Alabama railroad judge convicted of murder for the 1967 slaying of James McClain, who was burned alive during a race riot.

"In Alabama, there was a lot of race hatred that has never been fully overcome," Carter said.

"I've been on the bench for 20 years," Carter said. "And I've seen a lot of changes. I've seen a lot of progress. But there's still a long way to go."
But They Lose With Style

By MICHAEL CLOTTMAN

ATLANTA (AP) — Among the Falcons' frustrations Tuesday was how they couldn't turn a game of what they regarded as key plays into key points.

"It's frustrating," quarterback Bob Lee said. "I thought we had some chances and we didn't capitalize."

The result was a 21-14 loss to the San Diego Chargers in their final game of the season in the Georgia Dome.

"You just can't have that happen," coach Mike Ditka said. "We had to make more plays."

The Chargers took charge in the second quarter, scoring touchdowns on a 1-yard run by quarterback Dave Tinto and a 13-yard pass to running back Charlie Joiner.

The Falcons started strongly, with a 35-yard run by tailback John Cabbage on the first play.

But the Chargers responded with a 72-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Charlie Joiner from Tinto.

The Falcons then scored on a 26-yard field goal by kicker Pat Swain.

The Chargers took over and scored again on a 3-yard run by fullback John Cabbage.

The Falcons scored again on a 1-yard run by tailback John Cabbage.
