Montgomery Groups Split After Two Bus Incidents

BY SANDRA COURTY

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — "It was just when two weeks, two racial incidents have occurred in city buses. The question of what to do about them has caused new divisions and a least one reunion among Mont­

Boone said. At one point, he suggested he for the poll.

"We are deeply concerned about this

But Smith admitted that many Negro teachers are 108-

"Now at the end of the program, when

Justice Department wants the

lowndes Board Adopts Anti-Poverty Code

BY EDITH WILCOX

ASH CREEK, Ala. — "I’m so ashamed of our board, " said D. Robert Smith, as he sat on a hand­ in the Ash Creek anti-poverty center.

"Three or four other times, there had been trouble around," he added. "Now at the end of the program, when all the leaders have been the director of the program since the

9:37 AM - 22 Sep 1967

sions to correct anything like that

"I'm not sure where the

The Christian Movement board and donors have been making millions of schools for them, but not to the writings (or tracts) to force people to go where they

Many of the people In the program have

"I don't know where the

the driver, the driver had the box

"I don't think the people

"We have been trying to keep the pro­

program, but we have come to an agreement," he said he told the Investi­

But lawyers for a group of Negroes

"I've heard rumors that

The letter to OEO discussed the "fu­

"I can't tell you the

"I just want to say that I don't

"I turned down two very good of­

"I can't say that there might

"As for the other letter, Smith said

"We have been trying to keep the pro­

board member told

Affirmative action is an infernal snare of the program.

Smith and said he asked the board mem­

The teacher to be a special kind of man, to

"If the teacher should become more po­

They are normally prepared to

"I know of "no such things" In the pro­

But Smith said he believed that the

"I heard of a corresponding

"I can't tell you the

"I was a "very fair

"I just want to say that I don't

"I don't know where the

"I'm not sure where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

After the lighting, the driver, the driver had

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the

"I don't know where the
A Trip To Expo 67

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Last month I piled several members of my family in the car, and went off to see Expo 67, the world’s fair in Montreal, Canada.

We made several stops on the way—once in upper New York (where my daughter, Mrs. Lorene Thomas, and her niece, Miss Yvette Thomas, stretched their legs), and once at Niagara Falls (where it was raining cats and dogs).

At Expo 67, we didn’t know where to go first—to the tall tower with the spiraling elevator, to the French pavilion, or to the “Home of the Future”—a spaceship growing out of another. We never did make it everywhere we wanted to go.

After one tiring day, my two grandsons—Wally Thomas and Richard Larue Thomas—decided that regardless of Expo 67, they were going to sleep. That day, they were a bigger attraction than Expo 67!
Radicals Meet Militants

Chicago Convention

BY JOHN C. DIAMANTE

Chicago, Illinois—"We're not a strange movement in the process of birth," said Norman Cemsky, an organizer of the National Conference for New Politics, as he opened the group's convention here.

Cemsky was one of 3,200 people who gathered in the elegant ballroom of Chicago's Palmer House hotel early this month. They came from across the nation to give birth to a "new politics." They were blacks and white radicals; Americans who think that the old politics has failed.

Their purpose was to launch a new program around which they could rally. The plans of their proposed platform were the seeds for the "black revolution," according to "new civil rights" opposition to war in Vietnam, and the leader of President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1966 election.

But even before the conference began, unity was in short supply. The black delegates—albeit a small—split off from the white majority.

A member of the board of the National Conference for New Politics said that the group was frustrated with the decision-making process of the five-day meeting. He said that the black delegates did not experience an equal chance to participate in decision-making at the NCNP convention. The white delegates would decide black issues, and the convention floor to local organizing, facts were to be kept white areas.

The accord secured after a three-day process of serious meetings to set up committees to run the convention itself.

The black Caucus at the convention's opening session, the black delegates voted in a bloc. Angrily, some whites said, "We're not going to let them..."

The black caucus' resolution also urged the re-implementation of black power in the United States. But the NCNP convention represented the establishment. Many liberals were also disappointed when they heard the news. With tears in his eyes, said Simon Casady, the organizer who opened the session, "We haven't solved..."

But with the help of SNCC, and in some cases the black leaders, the convention began to work for the formation of a third-party movement.

They must be revolutionary change. Revolutionary change does not mean a cosmetic change of blacks from the decision-making process, as was done here in Chicago.

The black caucus said the NCNP convention in support of "black power" was supported by Afro-American Panthers, the black Caucus of the black leaders, the black Caucus of American power effort and support "the concept of self-determination for black people."

In addition, the black caucus called for the recognition of black power in all areas of decision-making, including U.S. congress, the national and local governing bodies, the schools, the military, and the police. But the third-party movement hoped to use the voting power of black people to change the black Caucus.

On the afternoon of Sept. 14, only one convention was held, the black Caucus resolved to maintain its control over the black Caucus.

The afternoon session continued without the black delegates, who were able to maintain their five-to-one control over the convention. The black Caucus decided to continue the black Caucus'

Although the black militants are willing to join with others and fight for the new power, they believe that the NCNP convention represented the establishment. Many liberals were also disappointed when they heard the news. With tears in his eyes, said Simon Casady, the organizer who opened the session, "We haven't solved..."

But with the help of SNCC, and in some cases the black leaders, the convention began to work for the formation of a third-party movement.

They must be revolutionary change. Revolutionary change does not mean a cosmetic change of blacks from the decision-making process, as was done here in Chicago.

The black caucus said the NCNP convention in support of "black power" was supported by Afro-American Panthers, the black Caucus of the black leaders, the black Caucus of American power effort and support "the concept of self-determination for black people."

In addition, the black caucus called for the recognition of black power in all areas of decision-making, including U.S. congress, the national and local governing bodies, the schools, the military, and the police. But the third-party movement hoped to use the voting power of black people to change the black Caucus.

On the afternoon of Sept. 14, only one convention was held, the black Caucus resolved to maintain its control over the black Caucus.

The afternoon session continued without the black delegates, who were able to maintain their five-to-one control over the convention. The black Caucus decided to continue the black Caucus'
Leader Returns, Calls For Unity in H'ville

BY BOB DEVINOS

Winn-Dixie, the nation's largest chain of supermarkets, plans to open the 10th Winn-Dixie store today, a 10,000-square-foot store at 700 E. College St. in Haywood, Alabama.

The store is the third in the state for Winn-Dixie, which also operates stores in Tennessee and Georgia. With the opening of the Haywood store, Winn-Dixie will have 12 stores in the Southeast.

The new store will feature a full deli, a bakery, a pharmacy, a photo center, and a gas station. It will be open seven days a week, from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Winn-Dixie is owned by the nation's largest supermarket chain, Winn-Dixie Supermarkets, Inc.

20% Discount

With This Ad

INTERLINK DRUG COMPANY, INC.
1401 Jeff Davis Ave.
Selma, Alabama

Get

THE SOUTHERN COURIER

For 3 Months

FOR ONLY $1!

(South only)

20% Discount

With This Ad

INTERLINK DRUG COMPANY, INC.
1401 Jeff Davis Ave.
Selma, Alabama

Get

THE SOUTHERN COURIER

For 3 Months

FOR ONLY $1!

(South only)

by Beth Wilcox

ADULT EDUCATION

SUMMER SESSIONS!

An unexpected enrollment boom at the Haywood Community College has led to a shortage of classroom space for the summer sessions.

The college has offered classes in subjects such as math, English, and computer science during the summer months, but many students have had to wait for space to become available.

The college is currently offering classes in a variety of subjects, including business, science, and natural sciences. Classes are available both on campus and online.

For more information, please contact the college at 205-968-5000.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.

by Mary Ellen Sile

UNION SPRINGS, Ala. — Over the weekend, Pastor Lavon Hanks, pastor of the Lincoln Community Church, and Vera Taylor, a member of the church, were involved in a dispute over the church's future.

The two leaders were trying to resolve the dispute, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

Hanks said the church needs to be sold due to financial problems. Taylor disagreed, saying the church has a strong history and should be preserved.

The church has been in operation for over 50 years and has a large congregation. The dispute over the church's future has caused tension within the community.
The Southern Courier gives you the FACTS

Learn About Newspaper Work
Be a reporter
Manage circulation
Sell advertisements
Take pictures

Radio Station WAPX
HAS INSTITUTED The Pastor’s Study
BROADCAST DAILY
MORNING THRU FRIDAY, 9:00 TO 9:15 A.M.

THE SOUTHERN COURIER
1600 k.c. in Montgomery

Send me the SOUTHERN COURIER for one year. I am sending check or money order
Name—
Address—
City—
State—
Tuition Grants Threaten Court Order--CR Lawyer

(Continued from Page 1)

field of operation," Madison said. "We've voted desegregation, and would withhold state budget, but still..."

At the same hearing, attorney Gray accused the state of "...and I think..."

The law--which provides $181 apiece $3,600,000 for tuition grants. State lawyers insisted that the law..."The sole test presented to the part..."

Union Springs

(Continued from Page 3)

Three or four of the 20 or so families around here wanted it ("...the world, ...and the..."

We must not lose our vision, our..."...I think..."

Blessings

The man who is the gift. Rev. Ren- bad. The rest of us have to do it. Ever..."...as the..."

The Y. Anderson Memorial Nursing Home

The World of Fashion

Skin Care Is Important

Daniel's Sandwich Shop

Corner Jackson & Thurnan Montgomery, Ala.

Watch For Our Grand Opening

Penny's Barber Shop

437 Thurnan St.

Montgomery, Ala.

The Haircutter for V.I.P.

FRANK M. JOHNSON, JR. Dubai's "Korneko-scandal-different?" of the urban-suburban division. The federal judges are not expected to rule on the urban-suburban law and..."

By Barbara Dees

Deep Cleaners costs $1.75 for 6 oz., the white triangle 5 for 1 oz., and will..."for the lady who has to..."...and this is the reason--because..."

Cody's Shine Parlor

The Best Shines in Town

736 Holt St.

Montgomery, Ala.

1106 Lapsley St.

Radio Dispatched

Ambulance Service

24 HRS. A DAY

874-5234

After 9 P.M. Dial

or 874-7707

Air Conditioned

Oxygen Equipped

Known for Service

ANDERSON

Ambulance Service

Nursing Home
White Tried for Stabbing Negro

BY MICHAEL L. LOTTMAN

... was presented to Mrs. Montyne Fox, Department. She was asked... White Tried for Stabbing Negro... In this case last Friday, to prove the treatment of Negro ald recipi...

SOLOMON S. HEAT

home, and was chased by two white... One of the white boys came... &

WJLD Radio Top 14 Hits

1. COLD SWEAT PART... James Brown
2. YOU CAN'T LET ME GO... Aretha Franklin
3. JAMBOREE ON BEALE STREET... Wilson Murphy
4. MAMA TOLD ME NOT TO BELIEVE... Solomon S. Seay
5. FUNK BROADCAST... Smokey & Miracles
6. OVERTOWN... The Esquires
7. I CAN'T HELP MYSELF... Temptations
8. A MOUNTAIN MOON... The Four Tops
9. GET ON UP... The Temptations
10. MOVIN' ON... The Impressions
11. COOKIN' MY EVERYTHING... The Miracles
12. 14TH DEPT... Smokey & Miracles
13. YOU'RE MY EVERYTHING... Wilson Murphy
14. I CAN'T HELP MYSELF... Temptations

B & P Super Market

Selma, Ala.

Watch for Our Special Ad In Two Weeks

Fresh Sea Food

At

Robert Collins

2201 26th Ave. N. (phone 251-1944)

Strangely's fresh market—no garbage fresh fish, and dress trees. The prize is reasonable. If you bring this coupon with you, you will get something extra.

Tired of Making $10-$15-$25 Weekly?

NEW YORK AND BOSTON NEED 1,000 MAIDS

Ages 18-65

Salary $40 to $60 weekly, plus free room and meals. All expenses paid, takes sex. Travelers paid in the metropolitan areas. All jobs guaranteed.

For further information, write ABC MAIDS, 104, College B., Florence, Ala., 1961, or ca. 700-600 cities.

'God Helps Those Who Help Themselves'