History Will Just Have to Wait

BY MIKHAIL LUTZMAN

TUSCULUMA, Ala.-Albus was really beginning. All Albus, that is. Traditionally a weaknduring Negro teams, Tusculum's football team just got in the game. The Gordo HighSolid from the Peninsular of Pocket County. And, the game was being played in the Tusculum Academy. And, the Tusculum County Agricultural School. And, the Tusculum County Agricultural School was playing against Gordo. And, the Tusculum County Agricultural School won.

The Tusculum County Agricultural School's team was good. They had been playing football for a long time. And, they had been playing against Gordo. And, they had been winning.

But the Tusculum County Agricultural School was not going to let Gordo win. They were going to win.

The Last Courier

With this issue, The Last Courier is forced to suspend publication for an indefinite period. After 11 1/2 years of unequaled publication, that was a hard decision to make. The need for funds is critical, and this page has not been able to support the paper for many years. And the need for funds is not likely to change in the near future.

I am sure that I am not the only one who has been disappointed by the lack of support for this paper. I am sure that many others have been. I am just one of them.

When a lot of white people talk about blacks, it’s always “You people do this, or why do you people do that?” And, as Brumsci Brandon Jr. observes in these cartoons, what white people say is often as foolish as the way they say it.

Laundry Can Be Fun

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Today's washeteria has become a fun gathering place for young people.

Little children come with their mothers, or with older brothers and sisters. They bring their toys, friends, and even their dogs for the 60-minute cycle.

"Sometimes I come because I like it," said 11-year-old Clinton Boyd. "But I always bring my little brother, because it's fun to play with him."
